SCHLEY

And the Brooklyn Did All That Possibly Could Have Been Done

In the Battle at Santiago.

Lieut. Commander Hodgeson Hands Out Some Warm Testimony Against Sampson Clique. Code of Signals Not Furnished Schley.

Special by Wire to Times-Democrat.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The Schley enquiry is dragging along today with hardly reading correspondence between Hodgeson and Schley, most of which has been published.

In the "Damn the Texas" incident, Hodgeson said in the New York Sun, "What made the editor of the Sun such a liar and scoundrel?" asked Raynor. "Because," said Hodgeson, "he made out from this story that Schley was a coward in the face of the enemy and that was perfectly false."

Lieut. Commander Hodgeson said, "I had not the slightest idea nor had any one else of the Brooklyn that a code of signals had been arranged with the insurgents at Cienfuegos and as soon as we knew the purposes of Captain McCalla's information, I knew that he was sent to find out the meaning of the shore signals. Regarding the battle of July 3, Hodgeson said, 'the Brooklyn did all she could do. We began firing as soon as our first port gun could be brought to bear. We got around on port beam and fired rapidly at the Viscaya which was then the leading Spanish ship.'

CONFESSED

That They were Guilty of the Crime

Of Kidnapping and Robbing a Wealthy Woman.

Triad of Young Bloods in Philadelphia May be Sent to Prison for Life as Penalty for a Serious Escapade.

Special by Wire to Times-Democrat.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—It is likely that events will go hard with Harry Wallace, society editor of the Philadelphia Press, N. S. Sloan, a reporter for the North American, and Oscar Dunlap, who are charged with kidnapping and robbing Mabel Goodrich, the wealthiest woman of the Tenderloin district. They have confessed their guilt and the maximum penalty for the crime of kidnapping in Pennsylvania is life imprisonment.

CASHIER

Who was Short to the Extent of $71,000 in Cash

Arrested at Washington, Indiana, Today—Will be Bound Over to Federal Grand Jury.

Special by Wire to Times-Democrat.

Washington, Ind., Oct. 7.—Richard Davis, cashier of the Peoples National Bank, was arrested here this morning and will be taken before a U. S. Commissioner and placed under bond to await a session of the grand jury. Davis is charged with altering figures on the bank ledger and appropriating the bank's money. It was discovered a week ago that he was short in accounts to the extent of $71,000. Davis and his bondsmen made this all up to the bank.

SERIOUS FIRE

Pittsburg, Oct. 7.—Fire in the Pittsburg clay pot works in Allegheny damaged the plant to the extent of $250,000. Injured six men and enforced an idleness of several months upon a force of 165 workmen. The injured men were firemen, who were on the roof of the boiler house when the wall fell, and they were carried with it. None of them will die. The fire originated in the boiler room from an unknown cause, and quickly burned its way through into the upper floors used as a drying room and kept at a high temperature. From there they communicated to block No. 3, and it was soon reduced to ruins.

STONE RANSOM

Boston, Oct. 7.—Just how much money has been given to the fund for the ransom of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American board missionary, held captive by brigands, is not known. Those directing the effort in her behalf hope that the response throughout the country will be very liberal, and that the figure is fully $100,000, if not the necessary amount, which is $10,000 more. In Boston and vicinity the amount already in hand from a comparatively small number of sources reaches nearly $30,000, and there are a host of churches to hear from.

STORMY PASSAGE

New York, Oct. 7.—Three of the big Atlantic liners which had encountered very stormy weather and high head seas on the passage across landed their passengers here. They were the City of Rome, of the Anchor line, Umbria of the Cunard line and the Calabria, which is in the Apollonia line from Mediterranean ports. All brought large numbers of passengers, those on the Calabria, because of the reported bubonic plague at Naples, being subjected to a careful examination at quarantine before they were allowed to come to the city.

STUDENT TORTURED

Beloit, Wis., Oct. 7.—George P. Stockwell, a student in the preparatory department of Beloit college, was enticed from his room at the house of President Eaton at an early hour in the morning by members of the mid-dle preparatory class. He was overpowered, divested of every article of clothing and compelled to walk ahead of a score of howling students, aided by the application of switches in the hands of his tormentors. The outrage is the climax of a number of class fights this year.

HEIR TO A VAST ESTATE

Humboldt, Neb., Oct. 7.—Charles Loree, for many years an employe of this county, has been notified that he is heir to property in Kentucky and Virginia, consisting of coal, iron ore and timber lands, valued at $14,000,000, of which his share is about one-tenth. There are nearly 4,000,000 acres of the estate, scattered throughout the two States. The property has been in litigation for several years, but has been settled through the efforts of John Loree of Cleveland, who is also an heir.

KING

Edward in Dangerous Condition

And Treatment

Only Serves to Make His Case Worse.

His Throat Trouble Has Developed Into the Family Complaint,

A Cancer, Similar to the Case of the Empress Frederick, Having Formed in Spite of All Treatment.

Special by Wire to Times-Democrat.

London, Oct. 7.—King Edward again went out driving today. Every effort is being made to reassure the public as to the condition of the monarch's health but it is learned nevertheless on indisputable authority that his condition gives his physicians considerable anxiety. His throat trouble has developed into the family complaint of cancer and resembles the case of the Empress Frederick. The trouble is now in its early stages but instead of yielding to treatment, has recently grown worse. The King's recent letter to the Tuberculosis congress, urging that they search for a cancer cure was in reality an appeal to the scientists of the world to save his own life.

DEFAULTER

From Sandusky City is Located in Cuba.

Special by Wire to Times-Democrat.

Sandusky, O., Oct. 7.—A. W. Miller, the defaulting city clerk, who is charged with misappropriating $150,000 of the city funds, has been located in Cuba, and officers have gone from here to capture him if possible.

SENSATIONAL CASE

Woman Kidnaped, Held and Robbed. Alleged Offenders Jailed.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Charged with kidnapping a woman and holding her a prisoner for four days without food, robbing her of jewels worth more than $2,000 and compelling her to sign bank checks for large sums of money, is the story which the police unfolded here when they announced the arrest of two newspaper men, a stenographer in another newspaper office and a barber, all of whom are charged with complicity in the crime. The men now locked up at the central police station are Howard K. Sloan, an unemployed reporter; Henry Wallace, society editor of one of the morning papers; J. Knight Findlay of Wayne, near here, and Oscar S. Dunlap, a barber, employed in one of the most prominent shops in the city. The victim is Mrs. Mabel Goodrich, the proprietress of a sporting establishment on North Tenth street.

Findlay, who is only 21, broke down when quizzed by the detectives and made a complete confession, implicating the others. The woman was detained in a house in Germantown, West Philadelphia. Her jewels and checks were found in possession of the prisoners.

AUTHORITIES CLASH

Manila, Oct. 7.—Considerable interest attaches to the case of Oakley Brooks, a military prisoner ordered to be deported. The supreme court recently issued a writ of habeas corpus directing the production of the prisoner, but the military authorities refused to produce him on the ground that the only tribunal having jurisdiction of a military prisoner is the federal court. While the Philippine courts were established by the war powers of the president, the military authorities contend that they are to be regarded as provost courts until congress has acted. The members of the supreme court and a majority of the members of the Philippine commission hold opposite views.

UNCLE SAM IS BLAMED

Berlin, Oct. 7.—Newspapers here publish the surprising statement that the Venezuelan consul in Hamburg, whose authority is the Venezuelan minister in Paris, declares the reports of war and revolution from South America to be false, and alleges that President Castro believes such rumors are spread by the United States in order to distract European interests likely to be obstructive to the endeavors of the United States in South America.

MURDER

Of a Five Year Old Boy Discovered.

Dead and Half Nude Body Found by the Police.

Father of the Boy is Frantic from Grief and No Clue to Murderers or Motive of the Crime are Found.

Special by Wire to Times-Democrat.

New York, Oct. 7.—The dead body of a handsome five year old boy, almost nude, was found in a sack in the basement entrance at 351 west Twenty-second street at six o'clock this morning. The boy was Albert Ryan, son of Sidney Ryan, of 300 west Twenty-first street. Ryan searched all night for the boy who went out to play early last evening. He notified the police of the boy's disappearance and when the body was found he became frantic with grief. No light has been thrown on the crime.

The father, mother and janitor of the flat in which the murdered child, Albert Ryan, lived, have all been arrested on suspicion by the police.

SCAFFOLD

Fell Thirty Feet Carrying Four Men With it.

Two were Fatally Injured and the Others Although Seriously Injured May Recover.

Special by Wire to Times-Democrat.

Cleveland, Oct. 7.—A scaffold fell at the new building of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating company's power house on Canal street this morning. Four men went down with it, a distance of 30 feet and were picked up unconscious. Al Pontland and Cornelius Wade will probably die. The other two men were seriously but not fatally injured.

TROUBLES

Promised for Mayor Hinkle of Columbus.

Alleged That He Entered Into a Conspiracy to Remove Civil Service Commissioners.

Special by Wire to Times-Democrat.

Columbus, Oct. 7.—It is probable that impeachment proceedings will be brought against Mayor Hinkle, in the council tonight. The principal charge will be that he entered into a conspiracy to bribe members of the civil service commission in order to have grounds for their removal.

ARMIES FACE TO FACE

Caracas, Venezuela, Oct. 7.—An envoy of the Venezuelan government who has just arrived at Maracaibo from the Colombian frontier wires: "For two weeks prior to Oct. 3 the Venezuelan troops concentrated between San Cristobal and Cuatrim, estimated at 8,000 men, had not discharged a single shot against the Colombian forces before them under the command of General Valencia, and estimated at 6,000. Both sides remained continually at 'shoulder arms.' The government of Venezuela, before attacking, awaits the answer of Colombia to the Venezuelan note. Three thousand Venezuelans are also massed at Guajira."

A PATIENT'S BREAK

Salt Lake City, Oct. 7.—In a fit of delirium August Sinsel, a powerfully built Finnish miner, who was suffering from acute erysipelas, created a panic at Holy Cross hospital by arming himself with a large knife and rushing wildly about the corridors, threatening to murder any one who sought to restrain him in his effort to break out of the hospital. Sinsel burst off an inner door, jumped through a glass window and disappeared before the police arrived. No trace of him has been found.

DEMAND PROTECTION

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 7.—The Macedonian committee held a meeting to protest against the persecution of Bulgarians in the district of Kastoria. Twenty thousand persons were present. A resolution was adopted calling upon the Bulgarian government to intervene at Constantinople for the protection of Bulgarians in Macedonia, and demanding that the great powers enforce the Berlin treaty in order to avoid revolution.

MORE

Blood is Shed by the Feudists

Of the South.

Four Killed and Four Wounded

In a Battle That was Fought in the Mountains Yesterday.

More Than Thirty Members of Each of the Warring Families Have Been Killed Since the Civil War.

Special by Wire to Times-Democrat.

Middlesboro, Ky., Oct. 7.—One of the bloodiest battles that ever occurred among the feudists of the mountains of this part of the country, was fought at the Big Springs union meeting house in Tennessee, twenty miles from here as noon Sunday. The Morgans of Virginia and the Chadwells, of Tennessee, were the participants. Two were killed and two wounded on each side. The killed are: Tip and James Chadwell and Rush and Henry Morgan, and the wounded are: Henry Overstreet and James Jones; mortally, Tom Morgan, leg broken and Joe Moberly, a flesh wound.

The feud between the Morgans and the Chadwells has existed since the civil war and more than thirty of each family have been killed during that time.

PROBLEM

The Episcopal Bishops Will Tackle

Is One They Will Find to be Very Perplexing.

Amendment to the Canon of Solemnization Has Been Prepared and Submitted by Select Committee.

Special by Wire to Times-Democrat.

Columbus, Oct. 7.—It is probable that impeachment proceedings will be brought against Mayor Hinkle, in the council tonight. The principal charge will be that he entered into a conspiracy to bribe members of the civil service commission in order to have grounds for their removal.

San Francisco, Oct. 7.—The house of bishops of the Episcopal church on Monday took up the remaining amendments to the constitution. As soon as this question is disposed of the bishops will take up the report of the committee on marriages and divorce. The committee has reported, by a vote of 11 to 1, in favor of amending the canon of the solemnization of matrimony by adding the following section: "No minister shall solemnize a marriage between any two persons unless not until by inquiry he shall have satisfied himself that neither person has been or is the husband or the wife of any other person living, unless the former marriage was annulled by a decree of some civil court of competent jurisdiction for cause existing before such former marriage."

The committee, in offering this amendment, does not discuss the question of the remarriage of divorced persons nor refer to the belief held by many persons in the church that an innocent party in a divorce obtained because of adultery is entitled to marry again. The majority report, which is signed by Frank H. Miller, suggests that the following provision be added to the proposed amendment: "This shall not apply to any one producing a certified copy of a decree of divorce on the ground of adultery, in which he or she is found to be the innocent party by a court of competent jurisdiction."

This report is one of the principal bones of contention in the present general conference. The majority report of the committee, signed by Dr. Morgan Dix as chairman, goes on to say that, in its judgment, no successful action can be had in amending the constitution of the United States so as to make uniform the law of marriage and divorce in the United States, and that the only practicable way toward seeing such uniformity should be sought through the enactment of similar laws by the several states.

WAR

Will Not be Declared by Castro

As the Support

He Commands is Entirely too Weak.

The Venezuelan Congress Blocks the Way of the President.

Talk of Reconstruction of Colombia, a Pretext Intended to Cover the Ambition of Designing Men.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Oct. 7.—Dr. Alejandro Urbaneja, president of the executive committee of the Venezuelan nationalist revolutionary party, gave out a statement regarding the political situation. Dr. Urbaneja is the virtual leader of the party and the personal representative of "El Mocho," General Hernandez. He was a cabinet minister under former President Crespo and is a prominent lawyer. He is in exile in Curacao.

"The nationalists until the present time," said Dr. Urbaneja, "have passively witnessed President Castro's attitude and actions toward Colombia, but they are now compelled to protest against them. Neither the nationalists nor the country at large have ever sustained the actions of Castro, actions which now promise an international war. The nationalists do not desire war with a sister republic, nor would they follow Castro in such a war. On the contrary they, as well as the country at large, would refuse to participate. If Colombia had ever really offended Venezuela there would be no necessity for Castro's forcible recruiting, as at present, in order to obtain an army to punish the offending country. In such an event all Venezuelans would loyally and enthusiastically join to punish the offender."

"I do not think President Castro will declare war against Colombia. In the first place, to do so legally he must obtain the consent of the Venezuelan congress, which will not convene before February next. In the second place, I do not believe the members of the Venezuelan congress, although they are all partisans of President Castro, would ever consent to a ruinous war with Colombia in order to help Colombian revolutionists. Neither do I believe in the possibility of the reconstruction of Gran Colombia by force of arms. Bolivar's achievement was effected under certain special conditions that do not exist today. Perhaps a Gran Colombia is possible through peaceful, intellectual operations, but never by military force. All the talk now indulged in on this subject is a mere pretext, a blind to cover the personal ambition of a few men."

SHAFER AT BAY VIEW

Milwaukee, Oct. 7.—President Theodore J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers made a flying trip to Milwaukee, remaining only long enough to make a short speech to a few of the strikers and then taking his departure. It is said not over 15 or 20 of the strikers heard him. The substance of Mr. Shaffer's remarks was that all members of the Amalgamated Association who are now at work in the Bay View mills who do not walk out at once will be considered as black sheep unless the mills are paying the Amalgamated scale in all departments. Mr. Shaffer's visit had no effect on the strike. It is said he did not see any of the officials of the Bay View mills.

BIG Excitement Over at Bluffton

Where a Well

On Diller Farm Started Off Heavily.

Steiner & Co.'s No. Two on
This Farm Began at a 100-Barrel Gait.

Operators from This City and Other Surrounding Points are Flocking to the New P...

Field News.

Bluffton, O., has an oil excitement of considerable proportions, is the comment of the Toledo Times. The second well of Steiner & Co., on the Diller farm did the business. It came in at 100 barrels last Wednesday.

Oil men from Lima and other towns surrounding have flocked to the scene in great numbers, so that the village hotels have been pushed to furnish accommodations. It is said that good, substantial producers have slept in buffalo robes in any corner they could find big enough. The well is two miles north of the town.

Buffalo parties have a well due today, and it is being watched with great interest.

There are half a dozen new rigs up on various farms around the village, and one well is drilling five miles east.

The Smaller at Monroe.

And so the oil smelter has reached the village of Monroe, Mich., and has caused a great deal of excitement, according to a special to the Times of last evening. He has been out to see Mr. Curpan, who owns a farm near the village, and with his instrument he has determined the spot where oil can be found in large quantities. As a result of a series of "experiments" made upon the farm named, the people of Monroe are in a fever of excitement. The dispatch further states that "the investigations have been conducted with the utmost secrecy by the man who located the great gusher on the Kline farm in the Ohio field."

The name of this discoverer is not given. Perhaps he has avoided that, fearing the consequences of publication. But the man who located a gusher on the Kline farm in the Ohio field has not been born yet, so that, at the start, the fever stricken people of Monroe should take the ordinary pills used for dyspepsia and biliousness, and become cooled in temperance. They should act quickly in this matter, otherwise they are likely to become completely hypnotized, and in the end burked out of a few hundred dollars apiece, more or less. The Times is a special friend of the people of Monroe, Mich., and does not propose to shut its mouth when an attempt is made to bamboozle them by any such phrase as a so-called "locater" or an oil well by any mechanical device, or other means. It would seem with all that the press of the oil country has said upon this subject that the surrounding people would learn a little something touching the matter. But it is said that a sucker is born every day, so that it is possible to catch one or two in every town one may enter. Nobody denies the people of Monroe the right to drill for oil or gas either, but we object to their being led to believe in the greatest farce of the age. The man who could locate an oil well would not have to tramp around a region remote from the seat of production. He would be worth millions to himself and others right in is pale, then your lips and cheeks are pale, your nerves weak, and your whole body greatly debilitated. The doctor says "You have anemia." There's just one thing you need—something to make the blood rich and red.

Scott's Emulsion will certainly do this. It will make the most happy changes for you, and soon your old strength and activity will return.

See and S. Co., all druggists. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

Catarrh

The cause exists in the blood, in what causes inflammation of the mucous membrane.

It is therefore impossible to cure the disease by local applications.

It is positively dangerous to neglect it, because it always affects the stomach and deranges the general health, and is likely to develop into consumption.

Many have been radically and permanently cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cleanses the blood and has a powerful alterative and tonic effect. R. L. Linn, California Junction, Iowa, writes: "I had catarrh three years, lost my appetite and could not sleep. My blood failed me and I felt all over. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and now have a good appetite, sleep well, and have no symptoms of catarrh."

the producing fields. Kick the "locater" out.

A Wild Cat Story.

Another of those Indiana "wild-cat" reports regarding the striking of "the largest well in Indiana" left Montpelier yesterday for general circulation. If the report had come from Hartford, where it is known by everybody the biggest oil liar of the earth resides, it would not have sounded quite so harshly. The report stated that the Diamond Oil company shot the largest well in Indiana northwest of Montpelier yesterday. While drilling in the sand the well had filled up 500 feet with oil and after it was shot continued to flow for some time and until at least 1,000 barrels of oil went to waste before the well was shut in.

Now the fact is that the well is good for less than 20 barrels a day and the statement of the reporter is taken as the basis of the calculation. The report further stated that the well was good for 1,000 barrels a day.

Mr. F. J. Connell, of Wellsboro, N. Y., an oil operator was in the city yesterday. To a Times man Mr. Connell stated that he had just closed up a purchase of the lease and wells on the 55 acre Sangler farm in Wood county from W. L. Vandeman of Delaware, O. He says there are five wells on the lease. Mr. Connell also states that he has other interests in the Wood county field, as well as in Oregon township and Hancock county. He came here yesterday to make arrangements for equipments for drilling two more wells on the Whitmore farm, near Findlay, of which he says he has 50 acres under lease. Mr. Connell also stated that his firm had just drilled in a gas well fifteen miles from Buffalo, good for 1,500,000 feet per day, and that two more wells will be put down at once. The product is being piped to East Buffalo. Mr. Connell thinks that there never was a time in the history of the oil trade when matters look so promising as the present. He does not view the Texas field with much concern and thinks that it will have no particular effect upon the market. Mr. Connell will remain in the Ohio field for about two weeks before returning to the east.

Hancock County.

Pentzer and others have a well on the Cyrus Stacy farm in Cass township which is holding up at 50 barrels. The well is nearly a month old.

No. 11 on the Phil Reimund farm, completed Tuesday by Allen & Co. did 50 barrels the first day.

The new well on the J. R. Baker farm in Cass township being drilled by George Whitman, made a splendid flow Wednesday. Oil sprayed for more than half hour.

DOUBTFUL RUMORS

And still Scores of Lima People Accept Them as Facts.

The published statement of some stranger residing in a faraway place may be true enough, but it is generally accepted as a doubtful rumor. How can it be verified. The testimony which follows is convincing proof because it comes from a resident of Lima.

Mr. A. J. Councilman, boiler maker living at 796 south Elizabeth street, says: "There was a constant heavy aching pain through my loins with frequent sharp twinges if I brought any strain in my back. Doan's Kidney Pills had so greatly benefited others in Lima that I decided to try and procured a box at Melville's drug store, and used them. They helped me promptly and effectually."

In the old days when whiskey could be bought for 25 cents a gallon a first class row could be started at a barn raising or a caucus for less than a dime, but this is beaten by the present cheapness of wine in France, where a gallon sells for less than 1 cent.

CALEB POWERS.

Celebrated Case About to Be Called.
New Evidence.

Georgetown, Ky., Oct. 7.—The court of appeals, having granted ex-Secretary of State Caleb Powers and James Howard new trials, the case of the former will be called here Tuesday. Powers has been removed from Frankfort to the jail here, and it is denied that his mind is giving way under the long confinement. Powers was convicted over a year ago as accessory to the murder of Governor William Goebel in January, 1900, and sentenced to life imprisonment. Howard was later convicted of the deed and sentenced to be hanged. Counsel for Powers includes Judge Jerry Morton of Lexington, Judge James C. Sims of Bowling Green, R. C. Kinkaid of Louisville, John W. Douglass of Owenston and Judge J. B. Finall of Georgetown. The same attorneys will assist Prosecutor Franklin as in the first trial. Over 50 witnesses have been summoned and it is said that this trial will be conducted on lines of marked difference from that of last year. It is generally believed that both sides have secured much new evidence.

Father Kearney's Degree.

Zanesville, O., Oct. 7.—There was a notable gathering of Catholic clergy and laity here to witness the conferring of the degree of doctor of sacred theology on Very Rev. L. P. Kearney, provincial of the Dominican order, Dr. A. V. Higgins of New Haven, Conn., the venerable prelate of the order, conferred the degree, assisted by Bishop McElroy of Columbus, who celebrated pontifical high mass. Cardinal Martini, the papal delegate at Washington, D. C., telegraphed his congratulations. Fifty prominent clergymen were present from different sections of the country. Father Kearney is the third man in America to receive this degree. The others were Dr. Higgins of Connecticut and Dr. Kennedy of Somerset, O.

Philippines Not Profitable.

Denver, Oct. 7.—Congressman John F. Shafroth, who has been traveling in China and the Philippines for the past four months, has arrived home. Speaking of the conditions in the Philippines he said: "Peace has been practically restored. There is still a little insurrection in Samar, but aside from that everything is fairly quiet. I do not believe, however, that the retention of the islands will be profitable, as the government will have to expend a great deal of money on them even in times of peace. It costs now between $80,000,000 and $75,000,000 a year to keep the soldiers there, and even if the number is reduced to 30,000 the expense will still be greater than the profits from the islands will warrant."

Postal Service in Alaska.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Postoffice Inspector John P. Clum has returned from a trip of inspection through Alaska. He has reported to the department that the service is in excellent condition, and particularly in the Yukon valley, where the various towns have a small service of once a week in each direction. He established the northernmost postoffice in the world. This is at Port Darwin, where Rev. Dr. Richmond Marsh, the missionary at the little settlement, was appointed postmaster. This place, where the northernmost newspaper in the world is published once a year, will receive the mails once a year by a United States revenue cutter.

Swallowed Morphine.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 7.—John Wyatt Turner of Rock Hill, Ala., assistant instructor in the carding and spinning branches of the textile department of the Georgia School of Technology, committed suicide by taking morphine. Before taking the drug Turner telephoned one of his friends that he was about to end his life, but help arrived too late.

Swept By a Gale.

London, Oct. 7.—A furious gale raged over Great Britain, the channel, the North sea and Belgium. Several fatalities are reported as the result of falling trees. Slight casualties at sea are also reported. There was a water spout near Calais. Telegraphic and telephonic communication was generally interrupted.

Anarchists Held.

Rome, Oct. 7.—Glavinovich, an anarchist, who recently arrived here from Dalmatia, has been arrested. He had been heard to threaten the lives of the pope and of Cardinal Rampolla, pontifical secretary of state. Boschieri, another anarchist, has been arrested at Milan.

Warehouse Burned.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—The 6-story building at the foot of Michigan avenue used by the Barry Brothers Transportation company as a warehouse was destroyed by fire. Loss on building and contents, $100,000.

Killing Off Horses.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 7.—Thousands of horses in northern Missouri are afflicted with a disease similar to glanders, and deaths among them are numerous.

Cancerous SORES

are most frequently to be seen upon the face, neck or breast, although they are liable to appear upon other parts of the body. When they begin to spread and eat into the flesh, sharp, piercing pains are felt as the underlying tissue is destroyed and the tender nerves exposed. Cancerous sores develop from very trifling causes; a carbuncle or boil, swollen gland, a little watery blister on the tongue or lip, a wart, mole or bruise of some kind becomes an indolent, festering sore, which in time degenerates into cancer.

"Ten years ago I had a sore on my left temple, which the doctors pronounced cancerous. It would itch, burn and bleed, then swell over, but would never heal. After making S. S. S. available to me, I took it for a month, and when I looked in the mirror, I saw that the sore had healed, to be sure all the poison was out of my system. Have been free of the cancer for ten years."

Caution. S. S. S. is strictly a vegetable remedy, and, while possessing purifying and healing properties, contains nothing that could damage the system. While cleansing the blood, it also builds up the general health.

If you have a cancerous sore, or other blood trouble, send for our free book on Blood and Skin Diseases, and write to us for any information or advice wanted; we make no charge for this service.

VALUE OF MANCHURIA.

One of the Most Fertile Countries on the Globe.

United States Commercial Agent Greener, at Vladivostok, says in a report to the state department at Washington that Manchuria is no place for tourists and that it would not be safe for foreigners to venture into that part of China. He refers to the conditions in Manchuria, saying:

"Since the Russians have been obliged to enter the territory to protect their railway line this fertile and promising region has assumed even greater importance, commercially and strategically."

"Manchuria has an area of 363,000 square miles and is one of the most fertile countries on the globe. There are no better crops in all Asia. The volume of business done is estimated at from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. American goods are already known and favored on account of their cheapness—fruits, canned goods, watches, clocks, musical and cuckoo clocks, steel, fancy goods and novelties. One enterprising American merchant has ventured into Manchuria. How far he will penetrate remains to be seen.

"The Russian's policy is one of conciliation. He knows how to deal with the Chinese. He will not supersede the Manchus as an agriculturist, however, or even as a miner. It will be some time before he is a success in the western sense in either of these lines."

"The area of the goldfields in Manchuria extends more than 1,127 miles along the shores of the Argun and Amur rivers, from the head of the Hailar to the mouth of the river Sungari, 255 miles inland. There is no doubt as to the richness of these mines. Until 1883 the Chinese, in consequence of extreme prohibitory laws promulgated by the governors, could not develop the richest mines. When permission was obtained, the Chinese were untrained for this work and had not the requisite tools and machinery. At every stage of the development of any of these mines it is safe to say one-half of the gold is overlooked, so primitive and wasteful are their methods.

"Permission for mining purposes does not now depend on Russian authority, but upon the Chinese governors, who in turn must await instructions from Peking. All attempts at mining or exploration in such parts of Manchuria as do not belong to Russia are forbidden unless under permit, and offenders will be dealt with according to law."

THE BIBLE DOWN TO DATE.

Latest Revision Completed, but People Prefer the Old Version.

Americans have wasted no time in getting their revised edition of the Bible upon the market immediately following the expiry of the fourteen years in which they were pledged not to publish. We have not yet had an edition in England, but many are on the way. Some extracts of the new version have come over by cable, and not all will find unequivocal approval here, says the London Black and White. "The way of the transgressor is hard" has passed into a proverb of everyday use. We shall scarcely recognize the American variation. "The path of the transgressor is rugged." Many of the alterations undoubtedly make for greater clearness and lucidity, but, after all, do we want a Bible phrased in the idiom of today?

There is no clamoring for a twentieth century version of the "Paele Queen," but Spenser is still an undiminished joy to reading men and women. The old wordiness of the Bible is one of its greatest charms. Its English is held up as a pattern to writers. But America must have a twentieth century Bible in twentieth century diction. It is to be hoped that the example of the professors will not be emulated by less scholarly men. It will be interesting to note how the new edition sells. The old version of the Bible still sells ten to one better than that published last in England.

Dewey the Champion Director.

Within the past few days Senator Chauncey M. Dewey has been elected a director in more than a dozen different corporations. In most instances he has been re-elected to boards in which he has served for many years. The fact is disclosed, however, that Senator Dewey is now a director or trustee in more corporations than any other man in the United States, says the New York Sun. He is a director in seventy-six different companies, forty-nine of which are railroad companies. He is president of six companies and chairman of the board of six or seven other companies.

How Deserts Are Reclaimed.

In the western country, where the farmers depend mostly upon stock raising, a tract of five, ten or twenty acres can be irrigated by means of wells pumped by windmills or engines, says The Review of Reviews. This small tract gives a large yield per acre in the form of vegetables, fruit and alfalfa, enabling the farmer to keep pigs and cows sufficient for home use. In some sections, such as the region about Gordon City, Kan., irrigation is practiced on a large scale.

Coloquy.

Monstrous, hated name! Thy breath doth poison freedom's air. Thy crown thou hast laid the land in gloom. Dearest, hath followed thy dark aim, and hope, erstwhile as bold, Hath fallen faint and low, while peace, to hear the story told, Afrighted, flees away. Oh, spurn of hate, to smile Where hells have sought to greet! Oh, the ill measured night. Of one fell arm to bring this woe, this ruin deep, And leave a world in tears, while answering heaven weeps! Perish the name among men of men to let it be Recast for ever speech with scorn to eternity! —Bloomington Pantograph.

O. R. Lawson, of Bay Villa, Sundays River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Lawson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of thirty miles, to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty. Of these, within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by Wm. M. Removed to his home he was in a precarious condition during the night. He is now convalescing. It is not infrequently it is thought he will soon be entirely recovered.

LITTLE LILLIPUTIANS.

The Sipe shows which will exhibit here, are this season introducing an extreme novelty in the line of educational animals. Among one of the principal features introduced for the first time this season is 72 Shetlands to be shown at one time and one place. One of the many features to be seen with the Sipe shows is the massing of 72 ponies in one arena. At a signal the intelligent little ponies, each in charge of groomers, are brought into the open space by the ring. Each animal is costumed with thousands of hand some clattering, nodding plumes and elegant bristles on their heads. At another signal the groomers release the animals, whereupon they dash into the enclosure and with celerity and grace assume their respective positions. Some are posed on the ground, others on pedestals, others again on raised platforms to the summit, where stands on the lofty pinnacle of this magnificent pyramid the famous Shetland "Rococo" upon whose back sits the Lilliputian trainer, dogs, monkeys and little animals of all description are educated, handled and trained by dwarfs, Lilliputian masters and little people of all descriptions. Promptly at 10 o'clock on the day of the exhibition, a street parade will promenade the principal thoroughfares of this city, and the generous public will then have an idea of the size and magnitude of the Sipe Educational Animal and Lilliputian Shows.

Will exhibit at Lima, O., on October 11, afternoon and evening.

Czeizogus Lauded.

London, Oct. 7.—A fairly well attended meeting of anarchists was held in a hall in Tottenham Court road, London, to hear a lecture on the assassination of President McKinley by H. Kelly. The audience, largely composed of foreigners, applauded all reference to "Saint Czeizogus" and his "meritorious" act. The speakers included Enrico Malatesta, the Italian anarchist, who described the assassination as "a deed of heroism." Kelly's lecture was a denunciation of Mr. McKinley's political career. He declared that they did not try to justify assassination, but rather to explain it as the outcome of "the oppression of workmen by capital."

Little Boy Missing.

Middletown, O., Oct. 7.—Walter Meachlin, 3, disappeared from his home at Amanda last Wednesday, and since that time the neighborhood for miles has been searched day and night for him. Vultures have been probed with poles and all crevices opened. Sunday the water was let out of the canal and 14 men abreast waded for miles in water and mire in the vain search. It is now believed that the boy has been kidnapped for ransom.

As one paper says, the republicans carried Kansas and then the trouble began. First came Carrie Nation and wanted them to drink water. When they agreed to do so it got so hot and dry that they couldn't get water. Then they prayed for rain, but it came too late to save the crop. Now they say that it is raining so much that all the wheat is sprouting in the stacks. It was the first wrong step that led to all the rest. They didn't have any such troubles when the fusionists ran the state.

A short time ago the Industrial Commission made public a report on industrial combinations abroad. It has now followed this up with a report on labor legislation in the leading countries in the world. It appears from this report that only in respect to a few subjects does foreign legislation exceed in bulk and detail that enacted in this country. Some matters upon which there is elaborate legislation abroad are not dealt with in this country, such as the state insurance systems found in some European countries and certain Australian colonies, and the guild system, which is so marked a feature in Germany. It appears that legislation on the subject of apprenticeship is more precise on the continent than in England or the United States, where the tendency has been to allow the control and instruction of apprentices to depend upon the action of labor unions. Continental legislation touching factory and shop regulation, hours of labor, etc., is more extensive than in the United States, and systems of arbitration in labor disputes have been more thoroughly worked out there.

No country except the United States, however, has legislation giving political protection to the laborer, and there is an absence abroad of special legislation for certain classes of workmen, such as railroad employes, and of statutes against combinations by employers or employes, blacklisting and boycotts.

KILBOURNE'S MILITARY RECORD.

There has been considerable inquiry as to Col. James Kilbourne's military record. The following is official:

Enlisted as private in Co. A, 84th O. V. L., June 3, 1862, age 20.

Transferred to Co. H, 95th O. V. L., August 6, 1862 and mustered as second lieutenant.

Promoted to first lieutenant, December 5, 1862.

Assigned to staff of Gen. J. H. Tuttle in 1863.

Assigned to staff of Gen. John MacArthur, February 1865.

Brevetted major, lieutenant colonel and colonel for faithful and meritorious services during the war July 29, 1865.

Mustered out of the service, August 14, 1865.

He participated in the following actions: Haines' Bluff, Snyder's Bluff, movement on Jackson, Miss., via Grand Gulf, siege of Vicksburg, assault on Vicksburg, Champion Hills, Big Black river, siege of Jackson, Brandon, Canton, at and around Memphis, Tallahatchie river, Abbeville and Oxford, College Hill, Abbeville, second action, Devall's Bluff, Arkansas, Clifton, Tenn., Eastport, Miss., movement from Eastport to New Orleans, Dauphin's Island, Alabama, siege of Old Spanish Fort, assault and capture of Fort Blakely, the last battle of the war, occupation of Mobile, occupation of Montgomery, occupation of Selma, Alabama, and a score of minor engagements.

He was attached to first brigade, third division, fifteen corps to December, 1863. To first brigade, third division, sixteenth corps to February, 1865.

PRESIDENTIAL POLICIES.

With the most sincere purpose in the world to carry out the policy of his beloved predecessor, President Roosevelt may have frequent occasions for adopting his own policy without regard to precedents. Even when two do the same thing, it is not always the same thing, so much depending on the manner of doing it. Matters of government are not to be fixed by hard and fast rules. It may be doubted whether President McKinley himself could have defined his own policy, which was so largely determined by unforeseen events.

As for the vice presidents who have succeeded to the presidency, they have usually expressed the like purpose to make no departure from the policy of their predecessors. It may be added that not one of them was afterward elected for another term. John Tyler was nominated for vice president because he wept on the shoulder of John Minor Botts over the rejection of Henry Clay by the Whig convention of 1840. But on succeeding to the presidency Tyler threw overboard almost the entire Whig program. Millard Fillmore on becoming president inherited the policy of Taylor's administration, which insisted upon the admission of California without any conditions or compromises. But Fillmore threw overboard this policy, and lent all the influence of administration to the compromise measures of 1850.

The efforts of President Johnson to carry out what he regarded as the conciliatory policy of Lincoln concerning the late rebellious southern states were followed by a ruthless reconstruction and by articles of impeachment. A policy which Lincoln might have accomplished with ease was utterly impossible to Johnson in face of a hostile congress and party, by whom he was deeply (and unreasonably) disturbed. The only distinctive policy of President Arthur was his commission to revise a tariff which was exceedingly moderate in comparison with the existing system. But instead of considering the able report of the commission, which recommended an average reduction of 20 per cent on the tariff, congress passed a bill increasing the rates of duty.

A very important consideration as to policies of government is that while presidents may propose them, in the long run those presidents succeeded best who had no distinctly defined policy to urge in matters of legislation.

lation, but who left such matters to congress while discharging the important executive duties. It is likely, therefore, that President Roosevelt, with his intimate knowledge of the country's history and with his experience of public affairs, will be guided rather by the sentiment of the country than by what he conceived to be the policy of his predecessor. In spite of his impetuosity at times, the people have no small confidence in his good judgment, while they make no question of his honest zeal in behalf of pure administration of the civil service. With regard to the fact that no vice president succeeding to the presidency has been elected for a new term, there is no reason (so far as the republican party is concerned) why President Roosevelt may not prove an exception to the rule.

WHICH SHALL IT BE?

Thousands of Homes Comfortable or a Half Dozen Millionaires?

That disinterested capitalist, Mr. Carnegie, made millions out of steel, and has for the past year been trying to appease his conscience by building libraries, but the Homestead horror is a specter that will not down, and his vast fortune that was wrung from the exhausting labor of thousands is but of little use to him. The trust has taken his place, and it, too, wants its pound of flesh, and, being a corporation, it will never make restitution like Carnegie. In commenting on these extraordinary matters the New York Journal says: "Is it better for the United States that the steel industry, with all the minor industries dependent on it, should support in comfort a million human beings, the steel workers, their wives and children, or that it should make a dozen human beings enormously rich so that they don't know what to do with their money on it, how to give it away?"

"Is it better for the United States to have a quarter of a million steel workers well paid, educating their children, feeding their families properly, or is it better to have Mr. Carnegie scattering millions. Mr. Morgan buying fine pictures and yachts and brick-a-brac and Mr. Schwab drawing $1,000,000 a year?"

"For our part we are bound to say that we think a great national industry should be made to support in comfort and in plenty a great section of the American people; that it should munificently reward organized genius, but that it should not be distorted into an instrument for manufacturing a few multimillionaires regardless of those who actually work."

"If the founders of this nation could return, which would please them more—

"To see a million homes made happy by a great American industry?"

"Or to see a few individuals rendered cynical, intolerant and overbearing by vast, useless wealth?"

THE QUESTION SOLVED.

A Philadelphia Editor Has a Plan to Control the Trusts.

The troublesome trust question is settled at last, and it is curious that none of us has thought of this simple remedy before. The editor of the Saturday Evening Post has made this wonderful discovery. As an inventor he will be counted with Franklin, Watt, Edison, Fulton and other men whom we love to revere. He has also discovered a solution of the strike problem, and it's just too simple for anything, don't you know. It's a wonder some other great man did not give to the world this startling scheme, but it remained for this genius in the dark regions of the editorial sanctum of The Evening Post to discover it, and thus bring peace where there has been nothing but war. Well, here is the plan: It is proposed that all the workmen in the United States save their money and buy the stock of the concern in which they are employed, gain a controlling interest and then tell the capitalists to go hence.

How easy it will be for the employees of the Standard Oil trust to buy a majority of that stock which is now worth at its market price over $800,000,000. In 1900 the trust employed 12,000 workmen, to whom it paid $6,717,059, an average of $11 a week. The editor of The Post probably thinks that at least half of this should be saved and invested, but if they could exist on $6 a week and save $5 it would still require over 123 years to buy one-half the stock, and Rockefeller or his heirs might advance the price of it and require another century to be asked. What gray matter these Philadelphia editors have!

More Jobs For Healers.

The administration is fixing up another little real estate deal for us, the Danish government having agreed to sell its three West Indian islands for $3,750,000. The reason Denmark wants to sell is that the islands cost a great deal more to administer than they produce. What we want to buy them for is probably to find places for some more of the Hanna strikers who are yet unprovided for.

Sell Into Line.

How easily some men fall into line and vote the ticket for the sake of the party and their own political future. Look at Senator Hoar. You would never think that he said that the downfall of the republic would be dated from the election of President McKinley. Then Julius Caesar Burrows—he was very shaky on imperialism; now he is loudly proclaiming we are a world power.

PLANS OF THE TRUSTS

They Aim to Be the Real Rulers of the Country.

THE DRIFT OF THE OMINOUS TIMES

Few People Are Aware of the Rapidity With Which the Combines Are Grasping the Reins of Government. They Openly boast That Political Rulers Are in Their Power.

It is quite time the people awoke to the fate the trusts have in view for them. We are all to be the beasts of our new rulers, who openly boast through their chosen organs that they control the present political rulers through their money. Events are happening with electrical rapidity that lead to this domination of the trusts economically and politically, yet but few of the people see the drift of the ominous times in which they are living. The great capitalists have it planned out for the future, and they are alive to the situation they have created, but the middle class of our people and the agricultural class are still blindly groping along in the old way, more intent on paying their taxes and living than watching the signs of the times. Before they are thoroughly awake to the situation that confronts them they will be enslaved. Already they are paying tax to the trusts for about all they consume, and the railroad combination is the master of the agriculturist, ordering him where he shall ship his produce and what price he shall receive. But the trusts are moderate as yet. The pinch will come later. They are now busy organizing and preparing for the future.

How they are controlling the present Republican administration, the congress and the state governments of many states by the power of their organization and their wealth and how they propose governing us all in the near future is told in a leading editorial in The Bankers' Magazine, the foremost organ of the Wall street bandits and of the lately organized banking trust, from which the following extracts are made:

"When individual competition is uncontrolled, the action of trade and productive industry on government is comparatively feeble, as the conflicting interests are so numerous and contradictory that they tend to neutralize one another. The growth of corporations and combinations tends to strengthen the forces which seek to control the machinery of government and the law in behalf of special interests."

"In the United States the purely representative character of the ruling powers lends itself easily to the control of the influence of organized industry and commerce, and in no country has the organization of the forces of production proceeded so far with the promise of still greater concentration. Thereafter the ballot controls everything, but the spirit of political organization which has grown up outside of legislative enactment now goes far to control the ballot. Industrial and commercial organization when it desires to control the government, either federal or state, finds a political organization ready for its uses. The productive forces are the purse bearers. They furnish the means by which alone governments can be made effective. They also furnish the means by which the political organization which produces the government is created and becomes effective. The business man, whether alone or in combination with other business men, seeks to shape politics and government in a way conducive to his own prosperity. When business men were single units, each working out his own success regardless of others in desperate competition, the men who controlled the political organizations were supreme, but as the business of the country has learned the secret of combination it is gradually subverting the power of the politician and rendering him subservient to its own purposes. More and more the legislatures and executive powers of government are compelled to listen to the demands of organized business interests. That they are not entirely controlled by these interests is due to the fact that business organization has not reached its full perfection. The recent consolidation of the iron and steel industries is an indication of the concentration of power that is possible. Every form of business is capable of similar consolidation, and if other industries imitate the example of that concerned with iron and steel it is easy to see that eventually the government of a country, when the productive forces are all mastered and drilled under the control of a few leaders, must become the mere tool of these forces. There are many indications, in the control of legislatures, that such is the tendency at the present time in the United States. Whether the result of this tendency is desirable or otherwise is another question."

"The dream of socialism has been to have the action of government so directed that it would shape the population into a great industrial army, in which individuals should be provided with the means of occupation and subsistence. The natural growth of business combinations will produce a similar result. If carried out to its logical conclusion, every citizen will become the employee or dependent of some one of the great combinations, directed by a head who in his power of financial control will be the autocratic ruler of every individual of his following. If all these great combinations of particular lines of industry are again made the subject of a still greater combination, including in its scope all industries and trades, the men or set of men who are at the head of this aggregate will be the real rulers of the nation. Every professional man as well as all who pursue every other mode of livelihood will be controlled by the strongest ties to one or the other of the consolidated industries. Every legislator and every executive officer will belong to the same band. Forms of government may not be changed, but they will be employed under the direction of the real rulers."

There is but one way that the programme of the trusts can be made so availing, and that is by defeating their tools, the Republicans, at the polls, and there is no other organization around which the people can rally to accomplish this but the party of the people, the Democrats.

The Central Realty, Bond and Trust company reports profits for the six months of $705,280 on $1,000,000 capital and also reports an increase in undivided profits of nearly $200,000.

The New York Life Insurance and Trust company made profits of $816,748 on a capital of $1,000,000, or 81.6 per cent.

The Continental's profits were 60 per cent, the Fifth Avenue's 65 per cent, the United States Mortgage and Trust company's 45 per cent and the Title Guarantee and Trust company's 37 per cent of its capital.

This means that the whole of their capital is nearly doubled every year. No wonder they could afford to make such liberal contributions to the Hanna campaign fund.

A False Claim.

The claim that Republican rule brings prosperity to agricultural workers is dispelled by the statistics issued by the agricultural department, which shows that the highest wages paid to agricultural laborers was in 1856 and the lowest in 1879, the latter when the Republicans had enjoyed a long lease of power.

Tarred With the Same Brush.

The Republican newspapers and monopoly organs have been much worried about procuring a Democratic candidate for president. Of all the candidates of their own they can't go astray in choosing, for they are all tarred with the trust and monopoly brush.

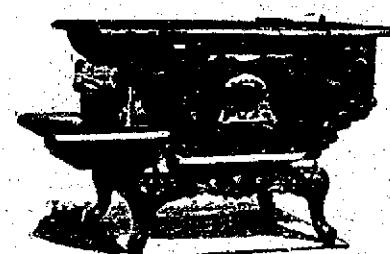

Ingratitude to Teddy.

The Republican politicians have been having fun with Theodore Roosevelt ever since they banked him into accepting the nomination for vice president and put Otell in control of the New York machine. Kansas City Times.

RESIDENCE

Of John Bressler Burned During Absence of Family.

During the absence of the family from home, fire broke out in the residence of John Bressler at 217 North Central avenue, shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon. Before the flames could be controlled the rear portion of the residence was badly burned. Fortunately the house and household goods are insured. The house belongs to Wm. Roberts. The blaze is thought to have originated from an overheated stove.

HIT

By an Overhead
Bridge

On C. H. & D.

Was a Brakeman from Cincinnati.

Accident Happened at Troy
and Death Followed Instantly.

Officials of the Pennsylvania are
Out on an Inspecting Tour—Notes Concerning the Local Roads.

Death came to brakeman L. H.
Friend, of the C. H. & D., in an unexpected manner last night. While standing on a box car attached to let 41, he was struck by an overhead bridge near Troy and instantly killed.
Friend was employed on the Cincinnati division, but was on a through freight that came as far as Lima, and was probably unacquainted with the conditions that demanded special care. He had only made a few trips and his career as a railroad man was cut suddenly short. But little is known of him or his family here.

Discarding Steam.

Some of the short steam roads will be run by electricity before many years. Already several changes of that character have been made and preparations for other changes are being made. The Pennsylvania is making arrangements to use electric power on its Xenia and Columbus road and the Comstock Brothers, who recently acquired possession of the Cincinnati, Georgetown and Portsmouth road, will adopt electric power for that line. The road is forty-five miles long.

Getting the Business.

The Lake Erie & Western, which in years past derived but little revenue from carrying coal, is now deriving considerable benefit from that line of freights. One of the Vanderbilt people, speaking of this property, said since the Lake Shore took hold of it and furnished additional equipment there had been an increase in its traffic and the road had a bright future. In view of its small bonded indebtedness it will always be able to weather bad years and meet its obligations.

B. of L. E. at Toledo.

Next Tuesday is the thirtieth anniversary of the organization of the Division No. 4 of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and the occasion is to be appropriately celebrated by the members of the order with their families. The affair will be held at Engineers' hall, on Broadway, Tuesday evening. Grand Chief P. M.
Arthur has consented to be present and address the meeting, and it is expected that others from out of the city will be present also. A musical program, as well as a number of addresses by local members of the order, will be given.—Toledo Times.

General Notes.

Bulletins announcing some changes in the Pennsylvania police department have been issued. The transfer of C.
E. Burr to the Baltimore and Ohio and the appointment of his successor has been followed by the transfer of Capt.
A. O. O'Brien, of the eastern division to take the place vacated by Captain.
now superintendent, Bradley. Lieut.
W. L. Lancaster, of the eastern division, has been promoted to the capacity of the division.

W. T. Warcup, has been appointed to the office of rate clerk at the Pittsburg freight house to succeed Mr.
Reed, who last week resigned to become agent of the Detroit Southern at Lepcis.

Pennsylvania officials have been spending several days on the lines west of Pittsburgh and are now enroute to their homes. First vice president Charles McCrea and third vice president Joseph Wood, passed through Lima Saturday on a special train, and the evening before, fourth vice president J. J. Turner and General Superintendent Charles Watts returned in their private cars after an inspecting tour of the various departments.

Conductors J. N. Johnston and C. H.
Davis, of the L. E. & W., reported for duty Saturday, after enjoying a few days outing at the Lewistown reservoir.

Jack Morrissey, who was until recently employed in the train service on the L. E. & W., and Mike Ennis, formerly a passenger engineer on the D. & L. N., have gone to St. Louis and the former writes that they have secured good positions.

LAST

Of the Sons of John Wheeler

Passes to Rest

After a Brief Illness at the Hospital.

Was Taken from His Home to the Hospital Last Wednesday

And Death Ensued at That Institution This Morning at 4:45 O'clock—Was Forty-nine Years Old.

Another death has occurred in the John Wheeler family and this time the last of the three sons of the late veteran merchant has passed the portals of mortal life. Harry Wheeler, who survived his father and two brothers, passed away at the city hospital this morning at 4:45 o'clock, after an illness of five days duration. The deceased was stricken with the attack last Wednesday and as the physicians, who were summoned, found his case to be a serious one he was removed from the home of his widowed mother, Mrs. Milleretta Wheeler on west Market street, to the city hospital. At the hospital he received careful attention and treatment, but the hand of death was upon him from the moment when he was first stricken and he came this morning.

The deceased was 49 years of age and was not married. He was born at Kenton and came to this city with his parents when quite young. His father, John Wheeler, and two brothers, Chas. and Carl Wheeler, preceded him to the grave, the latter passing away in Chicago on March 23, 1897. Chas. Wheeler died at the home of the parents on west Market street on January 13, 1899 and the father died on February 13 of the present year.

The funeral will be held from the Wheeler residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. J. H. Hinton and Rev. I. J. Swanson, and interment will be made in Woodlawn cemetery.

POISON

Was in the Lotion That He Drank

And the Day of Joy was Suddenly Turned Into a Season of Intense Sorrow.

Dr. McKinley, one of the old practitioners located at the village of Vaughnsville, met a tragic death yesterday, his end being the result of a dose of carbolic acid taken by mistake. It was in the midst of a reception welcoming home his son that the tragedy ended and the joy of attending the reception were suddenly turned into intense sorrow by the sudden and unexpected fate of the old doctor.

The young man had been away on a visit and was returning to enter the office of his father as a physician. The former's health had been poor for some time and he was forced to resort to the use of a stimulant, but in some way got hold of the wrong bottle and administered a fatal dose. The deceased was sixty years of age.

THE STAGE

"Way Down East" Tonight. The Chicago success of "Way Down East," following that of the New York and Boston runs, indicates that rustic drama depicting natural every day types of character, and deftly blending homely pathos and humor, will rarely ever fail to touch the popular heart. Many a blase city dweller, with stone-bruised boyish feet chased the butterfly through the meadows, and he loves to be taken back to those days by a simple, wholesome drama of country life. Plays like "The Old Homestead," "Shore Acres" and "Way Down East," which comes to the Fauror tonight find enduring popularity, where more pretentious dramas are often put aside with indifference.

Confess That They were Guilty

Of Two Thefts

In Which $225 Worth of Brass was Taken.

Mayor McComb Binds Four Prisoner's Over to the Grand Jury.

Brass Stealing Cases Investigated by Detective Blaize After They Had Been Pending for Months.

Saturday evening detective Wilson Blaise, who was employed a few days ago to investigate the two brass robberies that occurred some time ago at the ware house owned by Hover & Justus on south Main street, near the bridge, made four arrests and the cases are now in the hands of the prosecuting attorney and the grand jury now in session at the court house. The work done by detective Blaize was done with neatness and despatch and as two of the defendants have already made confessions of their guilt the value of his services to the community cannot be denied.

On or about the first of last May the Hover & Justus ware house was broken into and about 150 pounds of new brass was stolen. The robbery was reported to the police as soon as it was discovered but none of the thieves were apprehended and none of the stolen property was recovered. About the first of September another robbery was committed at the Hover & Justus ware house and this time another large amount of brass was taken, making in all a loss of about $225 to the proprietors. This time the robbery, it may be stated in justice to the present acting chief of police, W. J. Mills, was not reported to the police department but Hover & Justus decided to employ the services of a private detective and on last Friday they employed detective Blaize, who went to work on the case immediately. He informed acting chief Mills of the situation and the latter, being anxious to do anything that would bring the guilty persons to justice, detailed officer Armstrong to assist the private detective. The result was that on Saturday evening, John Monigan, of south Central avenue, and his two sons, Ed and Spencer Monigan, aged about 12 and 15 years respectively, and Hector W. McGill, who runs a brass foundry on south Main street, were arrested and arraigned in mayor's court. The two boys confessed that they had committed the robberies and claimed that they had sold the brass to McGill for something over $15, and had given the money to their father. All four were bound over to the grand jury under bond of $200 each and the case was turned over to prosecuting attorney Klingler to be taken before the grand jury which is now in session.

Boldly Attempt to Steal a Young Boy at Kenton.

A Sunday dispatch from Kenton says:

A daring attempt to kidnap the seven-year-old son of Harvey Ballard was made last night by gypsies. The little fellow was on his way home from up town when he was grabbed from behind and placed in a covered wagon. A horse blanket was thrown over him and the horses driven at a rapid rate. He rode that was for some time, when he managed to crawl out of the back end of the wagon, arriving home in bad shape from excessive fright. He had been gone from 6 until 11:30 o'clock and preparations were being made to send out a search party to look for him when he returned.

The Money at Fort Wayne.

Lima Horses are Much in Evidence

And Two of Them are Entered in the Free-for-all—Marshall Gets a Place at Mansfield.

W. N. Fauror has his stable of horses at Fort Wayne this week, and will start them in the events that begin tomorrow at the Red Ribbon meeting. The first to go will be Anna in the 2:35 trot on Tuesday, and on Friday the sorrel gelding will start again in the 2:28 class. May Simpson is entered in the 2:24 trot Tuesday and Ben Lobin is down for a place in the 2:29 trot, Wednesday and the free-for-all, Thursday. Several of the horses seen at the fair are also entered at Fort Wayne, principal of which is Paulding Boy, W. H. Vogel's consistent winner of purses.

Maggie Anderson, Charlie King's lay trotter has not made much of a showing in the past circuit this season, but she will be given another chance to get a slice of the $500 purse in the free-for-all at Fort Wayne on Thursday.

Marshall, the brown gelding, owned by J. R. Sinclair, got third money in the 2:12 class pace at the Hamilton fair, the time being fast enough to lower the track record four and a quarter seconds. The race was won in straight heats by Little Frank, owned by Dwyer Bros., of Jamestown; Julius second, Marshall third and Insure B fourth. The time was 2:17; 2:12 and 2:15.

With the Sunday issue of the Toledo Bee is a handsome supplement, suitable for framing, of the world beater, Crescens.

COURTSHIP

Begun in Lima Led to the Marriage Altar.

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, there will be a quiet but happy wedding solemnized at the Catholic parsonage in Lansing, Mich. In which Lima people are especially interested for the reason that the groom, Mr. Lee Christen, is numbered among the city's most popular young men, and the bride, Miss Lulu Williams, is a niece of Mr. D. Bell, formerly located here.

Mr. and Mrs. Christen will take an extended trip through the east, and upon their return will be the recipients of a shower of hearty congratulations from a host of friends.

While Loving Parents Were Speeding Homeward.

Sad News Awaited the Arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simons Who Returned from Buffalo Yesterday.

Yesterday morning at 3 o'clock, Mildred Simons, the bright little sixteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simons, of south Scott street, passed from mortal life after a brief illness that was caused by indigestion and terminated in fatal spasms. The death was an extremely sad blow to the loving parents, who had been attending the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo and were speeding on their way home when the little one passed to rest. They had left their daughter in the tender care of Mr. Simons' mother, Mrs. Adam Simons, of east Kibby street, and there she received all of the care and nursing that could have been possible under any circumstances, but the sad termination of the young life could not be stayed. The parents arrived here about 10 o'clock yesterday morning and the sad news was broken to them at the depot by Mr. Simons' brother, H. A. Simons, of the south side fire department.

Funeral services will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Simons, on east Kibby street, at 9 o'clock tomorrow. The services will be conducted by Rev. Father Rupert, pastor of St. Johns church and interment will be made in Gothseman cemetery.
